Virginia Attorney General's Office
Richmond, VA 23219

Dear Attorney General Herring:

Pursuant to Section 18.2-186.6 of the Code of Virginia, we are writing to notify you that one (1) participant of the Akerman, LLP ("Akerman") self-insured group health plan who is a Virginia resident was affected as a result of the Anthem data breach that was publicly disclosed in early February 2015.

According to Anthem, on January 29, 2015, it discovered that it was the victim of a "sophisticated external cyber-attack." Anthem says it believes the cyber-attack occurred over several weeks beginning in early December 2014. Anthem also says that the cyber-attackers gained unauthorized access to Anthem's data warehouse and, as a result, obtained personal information of its members. This information may have included names, street addresses, email addresses, telephone numbers, and in some circumstances, social security numbers.

According to Anthem, it immediately reported the attack to the FBI and is cooperating with the FBI's investigation. Anthem also states that it has retained a leading cybersecurity firm to assist them with the investigation and to strengthen the security of its systems. Anthem reports that it has no evidence that the cyber-attackers were able to obtain any medical, banking or credit card information. Nonetheless, in an abundance of caution, Anthem has, at its expense, arranged for credit monitoring and alert services for the affected employees through AllClear ID (www.allclearid.com).

When Anthem publicly disclosed the cyber-attack on February 4, 2015, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Florida (BCBSF), the third-party administrator of the Akerman self-insured group health plan, notified Akerman of the cyber-attack, but at that time it was unknown whether any Akerman BCBSF participants' information was involved in the data breach. On March 11, 2015, BCBSF confirmed to Akerman that some plan participants were affected by the breach and provided the firm the names of the affected individuals.

Akerman is not at fault or in any way responsible for Anthem's data breach. That said, as plan sponsor of the group health plan, Akerman wishes to independently comply with all disclosure and reporting obligations under applicable law. As mentioned above, one (1) of the individuals affected by this data breach resides in Virginia, and this individual will be, concurrent with the sending of this letter to you, notified via U.S. Mail at their current home address pursuant to § 18.2-186.6A, Code of Virginia. Enclosed for your files is a copy of the notice template that is being distributed to all potentially affected individuals. The notice encourages individuals to sign up for the 2 years' free credit-monitoring that Anthem is offering.

Akerman, LLP is simultaneously sending notice to any other state governments that require such reporting. If you have any further questions or need additional information, please contact me at (407) 254-3594.

Sincerely,

Patti L. Greber
Director of Human Resources

Re: Recent Anthem Breach and its Impact to You

Dear

As you may be aware from recent news reports, in early February 2015, a large health insurance company, Anthem, Inc., disclosed that it had been the victim of a sophisticated external cyber-attack. We are writing to inform you that Anthem has determined that you are one of the individuals whose personal information was improperly accessed as a result of the cyber-attack.

At the time that Blue Cross Blue Shield of Florida (BCBSF) first notified Akerman of the cyber-attack on Anthem in early February 2015, it was unknown if any Akerman BCBSF participants' information was involved in the data breach. However, on March 11, 2015, BCBSF confirmed that some Akerman BCBSF participants were affected by the breach and provided us the names of individuals who Anthem initially determined to be impacted BCBSF members. Regrettably, your name was included on the list we received.

Anthem reported that the cyber-attackers gained unauthorized access to its data warehouse and, as a result, obtained certain personal information of its members. According to Anthem, this information may have included names, street addresses, email addresses, telephone numbers, dates of birth, member identification numbers, income data and social security numbers. At this point, Anthem reports that it has no evidence that the cyber-attackers were able to obtain any medical, banking or credit card information.

As soon as our firm was made aware of the cyber-attack and the potential impact it could have on Akerman BCBSF participants, we immediately began working very closely with BCBSF to monitor the situation in order to provide updates to our employees as soon as information was available. We remain in close communication with BCBSF and will continue to monitor, assess and report any new findings, as needed.

According to Anthem, the attack was immediately reported to the FBI and Anthem is cooperating with the FBI's investigation. Anthem also states that they have retained a leading cybersecurity firm to assist them with the investigation and to strengthen the security of their systems.

You may wonder why a breach at Anthem impacts you, since your plan is administered by BCBSF, not Anthem. The impact of this cyber-attack extends beyond Anthem's members health care services covered under the BlueCard program. As you may know, the BlueCard program enables members of one Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plan to obtain coverage for health care services while traveling or living in another Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plan's service area. BCBSF members who received BlueCard-covered health care services that were administered by Anthem (i.e., had their health insurance claims processed by an Anthem affiliated Plan) over the past ten years were potentially impacted by this cyber-attack. Separately, we have also been advised by BCBSF that members who have had medical testing or lab work performed in one state and sent to a facility in another state covered by Anthem could also be impacted. For example, you may have had blood drawn in Florida, but the sample happened to have been sent to California for processing. Anthem operates affiliated plans in 14 states – California, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Virginia, and Wisconsin.

As a result of this breach affecting your information, we encourage you to take the following precautionary measures to protect your credit and identity:

Free Credit Monitoring and Repair - Anthem is offering two years of credit monitoring and identity theft repair services at no cost to impacted or potentially impacted members. You may enroll in these services or obtain additional information concerning the Anthem data breach online at www.AnthemFacts.com or by calling 1-877-263-7995.

Free Credit Reports - To find out more about protecting your identity, you can contact the Federal Trade Commission: (1) toll free at 877-438-4338; (2) online at www.consumer.gov/idtheft; or (3) in writing at The Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580. The Federal Trade Commission has counselors who can tell you how to contact the credit bureaus to get a free credit report or to freeze your credit.

Prevent Unauthorized Access to Your Accounts - Review your account statements and monitor free credit reports. Contact your financial institutions to prevent unauthorized access to personal accounts.

Be Aware of Scams ... Anthem has stated that they are not calling members regarding the cyber-attack and are not asking for credit card information or Social Security numbers over the phone. There are also email scams designed to capture personal information and are designed to look as if they are being sent from Anthem. For more information on recognizing scam email, visit the FTS website: <http://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/0003-phishing>.

You may have also received similar notification letters from BCBSF and/or Anthem. If you have not, you should expect to receive their notification letters in the coming days or weeks. In addition, it is possible that you or a family member could receive a separate notification from Anthem (or another Blue Cross entity) because your data from a non-Akerman Blue Cross plan may have been compromised.

We are sorry for the inconvenience the Anthem data breach has caused. We at Akerman continue our commitment to safeguarding personal data from unauthorized access.
